

WELCOME TO RIESLING!

For our chef Alexander Ehrgott, a careful selection of local and seasonal high-quality produce is the basis for a successful menu. If such a selection is combined with international and modern ingredients of premium quality, the result is a multi-faceted and exciting cuisine which is reliable as well as surprising, down-to-earth as well as sophisticated, and classic as well as innovative. And all this is possible because our chef is a true artisan, who work with passion and dedication to detail. He gives the same attention to classic regional dishes and rural manor house cooking as to culinary creations with a supraregional and international touch.

Our light-meal menu contains dishes based on the best regional ingredients, such as game from the forests of the Hinterland and the Taunus, local cheeses and meat as well as artisan sausages. Our Vesper (light meals), Schmankerl (snacks) and hearty home cooking are great treats for all those who do not have this choice every day or cannot easily procure such fare. And our hearty Rieslings sold by the glass are the perfect companions for this kind of food.

Our main menu varies with the seasons and consists of a menu recommendation, starters, soups, main courses and desserts. We choose all these dishes to accompany the Riesling wines grown at Schloss Vollrads. Our wines can be found on the menus of the best restaurants worldwide. This is hardly surprising since Riesling is generally regarded as the king among the white wines and as an ideal food companion.

Riesling does not dominate fine cuisine but instead emphasizes the ingredients' own taste and the flavors created by different preparation methods. At this point, it becomes apparent that our chef has many years of experience, undertaken comprehensive travels and gathered impressions in numerous countries throughout the world. Pan-fried dishes are rare at our restaurant. You are more likely to find braised dishes and time-consuming cooking techniques. Great cuisine takes time – just as does great Riesling.

Our service team headed by Stefan Golde is always ready to assist you with recommendations for your own unique menu and the perfect wines to go with it.

Alexander Ehrgott, Chef

I am the chef at Schloss Vollrads' Gutsrestaurant (manor house restaurant). Since I spend most of my time in the kitchen, creating dishes for you to accompany a good Riesling, you do not often get the opportunity to see me. Thus I decided to introduce myself to you by way of this photograph, to show you who is working for you behind the scenes.

We are ready to meet your needs with regard to mild allergies and food intolerances. However, if these constitute major hazards to your health or might even be life-threatening, please understand that we are unable to take on this responsibility. In cases such as these, we regret that we won't be able to serve you food.

GUARANTEE

OF ORIGIN

We consider products of major quality as the key to our success. Hence we guarantee the origin of these selected specialities:

Bäckerei Faust

The bakery Faust, a small, but fine company of our neighbour village Geisenheim. Managed meanwhile in the 4th generation. Master baker Willi Faust produces daily good bread from selected raw materials according to traditional craftsmanship and with much love - bread in pure culture.

Rheingau venison from the König family

Natural and genuine, more organic is not possible - with this motto, the König family from Geisenheim has committed themselves to game hunting. From hunt to processing everything is carried out under one roof.

Forellenzucht Siegbert Seitz im Wispertal

The trout bred by Siegbert Seitz counts to the best of the world among gourmets.

The flowing, clean water of the Wisper led by slate rock accumulates with many minerals. The taste is influenced by the terroir just like the Riesling.

Café am Dom, Geisenheim

Since 2009 Stefan and Marcus Pretzel have been managers of the "Café am Dom". In addition to traditional pies like chocolate cream pie they are attending on new creations like mango cream pie and exotic fruit cakes. One thing has not changed in all these years: "We are always using the finest ingredients!". The results are products of high quality – and that is their main goal.

Bio Käseerei Zurwies – Anton Holzinger

The company has a more than a 100 years old tradition in producing fine cheeses with an incomparable taste. The milk is sourced from 13 organic farmers from the Allgäu. Strict guidelines from animal husbandry to artisanal production guarantee cheeses, free from any additives.

Rheingauer Metzger Bach

Beef, veal, pork and lamb are all slaughtered and butchered by the company Bach in Rüdesheim. The animals are chosen by the butcher himself from growers around Rüdesheim. Natural feeding with hay and corn as well as ethical husbandry are the cornerstones of the philosophy from butchery Bach.

SCHLOSS VOLLRADS

– A HISTORICAL RESUMÉ

SCHLOSS
VOLLRADS

The origin of the name Vollrads is uncertain, though it is probably derived from a family name, for in the year 1218, there is mention of a »Vollradus in Winkela« and again in 1268, a »Conradus dictus Vollradus armiger.« The heart of the estate is a tower, surrounded by a rectangular moat, which is only accessible by bridge. It was built in the first third of the 14th century and inhabited by a family who shaped the destiny of the palace and viticulture at Vollrads up to the days of our time: the dynasty of the Barons of Greiffenclau.

The building of the actual palace – next to the massive tower that Goethe described as »unusual« during his visit in 1814 – was commissioned by Georg Philipp von Greiffenclau in 1684. His son, Johann Erwein, sub-sequently constructed the adjoining farm buildings, added the Baroque roof to the tower and gave the cavalier's house, originally built in 1650, its present appearance. The beautiful walls surrounding the garden were also built during this time. Generally speaking, the greater part of SCHLOSS VOLLRADS as it stands today is the work of Johann Erwein, and the many armorial designs decorating the farm buildings, the cavalier's house and the gateway to the garden bear witness to his remarkable building activity. The most recent alterations to the palace were initiated in 1907/1908 by Countess Clara Matuschka-Greiffenclau, née Baroness von Oppenheim. She had an additional floor added to the south wing of the palace, the two towers built at each end facing the Rhine and the terraces enlarged. The family tree of the Greiffenclaus can be traced back to 1097. They originally lived in the Graues Haus (Gray House) in Winkel – said to be the oldest stone-built house in Germany. Records shows that Rhabanus Maurus, the bishop of Mainz, died here in the year 856. From about 1330, the family resided in the moated tower at Schloss Vollrads. Many members of the Greiffenclau family were prominent personalities who served as patrons of the arts, as well as archbishops and electors of Mainz and Trier, and prince bishops of Würzburg. With the untimely death of Erwein Count Matuschka-Greiffenclau (†1997) the proprietorship of SCHLOSS VOLLRADS and its vineyards passed to the Nassauische Sparkasse (Nassau Savings Bank). It carries on the estate's great viticultural tradition.
